This Week's Guide to the LA Art Scene

Mark Moore Gallery Jason Salavon
Open until April 9

Mark Moore Gallery will be presenting, “All The Ways,” a solo exhibition of new works by media artist Jason Salavon, his third with the gallery. In his new body of work, Salavon explores the ways in which infinite variation and permutation—supercharged by large networks—is the engine of our exploding digitized culture. Debuting 14 new works in a variety of media, the artist furthers his investigation of the vast visual capacity engendered by an ever-advancing social and technological landscape.
